Diplomat-In-Residence Program Presents

Concert on the Quad*

Wednesday, October 12, 2005

1:00 PM

Tenzing Tsewan is a professional "Tibetan/Australian musician who has brought to Australia a unique mix of spiritual, cultural and contemporary music."

Mr. Tsewang studied chanting at Namgyal Monastery, India, (the Monastery of the Dalai Lama) that specializes in chanting, dance, and sand mandala painting. "Combining bamboo flute, clay flute, drum, cymbals, and a voice trained in the arts of a chanting master, Tenzing 's music is soothing, confronting, humorous and revealing."

Mr. Tsewang performs a variety of compositions, including chants of healing.

*If inclement weather, the concert will be held in Backstage.

MEMORANDUM

Date: September 30, 2005

To: La Salle Community

From: Julie Morrison, Director of University Events
Angela Colletta, Coordinator of Conference & Guest Services

Re: Scheduling of Events

Welcome Back!

We wanted to take this opportunity to explain the services that are available and necessary to the La Salle community when scheduling, planning and/or executing a variety of events.

The University Events Office can assist your department in the following areas: scheduling, budgeting, developing and executing event content, location and décor. The office provides event logistic services to campus departments and offices. By utilizing these services, your event information can be streamlined to Administrative Services, Food Services, Physical Facilities, Security and other offices for better coordination.

The Conference and Guests Services Office can assist with similar event planning needs, but for "Off Campus" clients. "Off Campus Clients/Groups" are defined as those groups, not affiliated with La Salle University, which the University deems appropriate to host. "Off Campus Clients/Groups" need to follow certain procedures, which are in place to ensure the success and the safety of the event. Conference and Guest Services exists to better serve and accommodate the ever-growing need to host and organize "Off Campus" events and programs that take place at La Salle University.

Please, keep these things in mind when planning an event:

- Check the Events Calendar to see what other events are taking place on campus in order to ensure that space and parking will be available for attendees.

- * This calendar can be located on the Staff Essentials channel on mylasalle.

- Call either of us, Julie or Angela, to understand whether your group would be considered Campus or Off Campus, if you are unclear about the group's status.

- Keep in mind that the facility needs which you may be requesting, i.e. tables, chairs, AV equipment, may be unavailable due to other activities on campus. In this case, it may be necessary to contact an outside vendor to supply your event. The vendor information can be supplied by Julie or Angela upon request.

- Students who are planning events should contact the Programming Center for assistance.

- *This office is located in the Student Union, Room 307, X5044.

When organizing an "On Campus" event, call University Events at x5001; when organizing an "Off Campus" event, call Conference and Guest Services at x3660. Please let us know if you have any questions regarding this information.

YOM KIPPUR

In secular usage, the word "atonement" means the act of reconciling with another person -- or group -- for one or more past sins or wrongdoings. In a religious sense, "atonement" normally means "at-one-ment." This is the state of being reconciled with God. The word comes from the Middle English phrase "at oon," which means "at one." When used in a religious context, it normally refers to some activity that reconciles a person or group with one or more deities, whether the action involves the affirmation of a statement of faith, the ritual sacrifice of an animal, or the performance of some other ritual.

The term is also used to refer to the "Day of Atonement" a Jewish annual Holy day. It is also known as Yom Kippur, and remains the most important holy day in Judaism. It is held every fall on the tenth day of the seventh lunar month of Tisri. It is described in the Hebrew Scriptures at: Leviticus 16:3-10, Leviticus 23:26-32, and Numbers 29:7-11. Jews continue to observe Yom Kippur today. Tracey Rich has written: "Yom Kippur atones only for sins between man and G-d, not for sins against another person. To atone for sins against another person, you must first seek reconciliation with that person, righting the wrongs you committed against them if possible. That must all be done before Yom Kippur." ^{1,2}

This year Yom Kippur begins at sunset on October 12. The following is from the preparatory prayer service for the Days of Awe. We can all use it as a way to see where atonement is needed in our own lives.

We have sinned against life by failing to work for peace.
We have sinned against life by keeping silent in the face of injustice.
We have sinned against life by ignoring those who suffer in distant lands.
We have sinned against life by forgetting the poor in our own midst.

We have failed to respect those made in the image of God.
We have withheld our love from those who depend on us.

We have engaged in gossip and in repeated slander.
We have distorted the truth for our own advantage.

We have conformed to fashion and not to conscience.
We have indulged in despair and trafficked with cynics.

We have given meager support to our Houses of Study.
We have neglected our heritage of learning.

We have sinned against ourselves and paid scant heed to the life of the spirit.
We have sinned against ourselves and have not risen to fulfill the best that is in us.

For all these, O God of mercy, forgive us, grant us atonement.

Students who are looking to attend Yom Kippur services are invited to Beth Sholom Congregation,
8231 Old York Road, Elkins Park, PA 19027. 215-379-3094
Services are Thursday October 13 at 10:00am

Conducting Research with Human Subjects: IRB Issues, Recruiting Ideas, & Student Researchers

There are a myriad of issues surrounding research and data collection with Human Participants. With an increased focus on faculty-student research, many professors and students are unsure where to begin or what legal requirements must be met.

Join us for discussion and refreshments:

- Wednesday, October 12th
- 3:30-5:00 p.m.
- Union Bldg Music Room
- Refreshments provided!
- Register for this session by October 7th (zelley@lasalle.edu)

This roundtable discussion will focus on using the IRB (Institutional Review Board), recruiting and using human participants, and having students conduct research for class projects.

Additionally, the Director of La Salle's IRB, Dr. Marianne Dainton, will speak about common issues that faculty and students face when conducting research.

Faculty members, teaching assistants, and graduate students are invited

Education Conference: What the Best Teachers Do

November 5th, 2005

La Salle University

What makes a great teacher great? Who are the teachers, students remember long after graduation? The short answer is--it's not what teachers do, it's what they understand. Lesson plans and lecture notes matter less than the special way teachers comprehend the subject, and value human learning. The best teachers know their subjects inside and out--but they also know how to engage and challenge students in order to provoke impassioned responses. Most of all, they believe two things fervently: teaching matters and students can learn.

Sign up for a day of exploration and entertainment as we look at what the best teachers do. This exclusive one-day workshop will take place on November 5th, 2005 on the La Salle University campus.

- 8:00-9:00 Check-in with continental breakfast
- 9:00-11:00 Key-note speaker
- 11:00-12:00 Box lunches and book signing
- 12:00-1:30 Break out sessions

Keynote Speaker:

Kenneth R. Bain (Ph.D., University of Texas at Austin, 1976) is founding Director of the Center for Teaching Excellence at New York University. His scholarship includes an interest in teaching and learning issues. Internationally recognized for his insights into teaching and learning, and for a fifteen-year study of what the best educators do, he has presented invited workshops at more than one hundred universities in recent years--in the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia. His learning research has concentrated on a wide range of issues, including deep and sustained learning and the creation of natural critical learning environments. His recently-published book What the Best College Teachers Do. (Harvard University Press, 2004) won the 2004 Virginia and Warren Stone Prize for an outstanding book on education and society.
